

Laudatio

Horst Urbach¹

Published online: 4 May 2016
© Springer-Verlag Berlin Heidelberg 2016

What is essential for our profession? Technical developments of course, manual skills, political networks; but also neuroradiologists who think differently, who do not just want to see what has never been seen before, but want to think what has never been thought before. The following two articles may definitely be taken as examples of this mindset. We were taught to think differently and infected for our profession by László Solymosi around 20 years ago. The “virus” is still living, is becoming even more active, and some of the content is sometimes printed not only in Clinical Neuroradiology. On occasion of his 65th birthday, László Solymosi’s pupils say thank you for this education. We include, without asking, the readership of Clinical Neuroradiology, acknowledging the great commitment of László Solymosi to this Journal.

Horst Urbach, Freiburg

Conflict of interest H. Urbach states that there are no conflicts of interest.

✉ Horst Urbach
horst.urbach@uniklinik-freiburg.de

¹ Klinik für Neuroradiologie, Neurozentrum,
Universitätsklinikum Freiburg, 79106 Freiburg, Germany