

The Colors of Math

Gizem Karaali

White in the beginning — color of the empty page foreign symbols scribbled frantic illegible — ants scurrying about on snow

| Blue blaring screen a blinking cursor . . .

A mild early spring breeze — inspiration and a cold

sniffing red nose blood on your manuscript red like anger red like hate —Would you like some carrot cake?

damn coffee!
burn your fingers stain your notepad it HAS to get muddy and brown before it blooms

Department of Mathematics, Pomona College
610 North College Avenue
Claremont, CA 91711
USA
e-mail: gizem.karaali@pomona.edu