Unfortunately, in the original publication of the article, the theoretical value of ‘the slope of the allometric relationship between ATT and SL’ under the heading “Discussion” was incorrectly published. The correct value is equal to 1.5 not 0.5.

Also, ‘mean annual temperature’ under the heading “Materials and methods” was erroneously published. The correct mean annual temperature is 10.2 °C in 1981–2010.

The online version of the original article can be found under doi:10.1007/s00468-015-1283-3.
