Lewin (1951) wrote that “there is nothing more practical than a good theory” (p. 169). In this issue, van Anders (2015) introduces us to “Sexual Configurations Theory,” perhaps taking the field “Beyond Sexual Orientation” as reflected in the title of her article.

The Journal welcomes commentaries on the theory. Commentaries should be sent to the Editor via electronic mail, no more than 10 pages in length, including references, with an attachment in WORD. References should be prepared using APA style. Submissions will be considered by the Editor for publication.
