During the publication process, unfortunately, there was a modification of a sentence that was not made by the author, which reversed its meaning. Instead of “In May 2020, I started to attend demonstrations against the Corona policy [...] with the aim of getting closer to the “native(s)’s point(s) of view(s),” which seemed to me after my first visit of a demonstration in Leipzig to be too undifferentiated and portrayed too negatively in the common media as well as by people I know”, the sentence correctly reads, “In May 2020, I started to attend demonstrations against the Corona policy [...] with the aim of getting closer to the “native(s)’s point(s) of view(s),” which seemed to me after my first visit to a demonstration in Leipzig to be portrayed with too little differentiation and too negatively in the common media as well as by people I know.”
