The journal of Sexuality and Disability sends a “BIG THANK YOU” to the Editorial Board Members and Reviewers for their expertise, commitment and energy during the year 2014. As a professional team, your valued contributions to the journal and to the field bring knowledge and resource to our readership and authorship. Your active participation and strategic presence is very much appreciated. We also wish to thank Springer Publishing and the dedicated staff that brings the journal into reality.

The beginning of each New Year, brings opportunity. This issue brings exciting perspectives and thoughts to utilize and build upon. As always, there is still more to do. Let’s continue this international journey together.

Sexuality and Disability continues to provide original impact articles addressing the mental health and medical aspects of sexuality in relation to rehabilitation, hospital, academic and community settings, publishing up-to-date articles, case studies, clinical practice reports, reviews, featured articles, historical articles, special grand rounds topics, brief research reports and survey data reports. Value benefit is provided to authors through worldwide electronic exposure and professional access, while readership gains from scholarly contributions to advance the field through research, best-practice and educational articles. The refined lens of individual contributions from the local and international community continues to deliver a wealth of information on the topic of sexuality and disability for the reader. Thank you for being a part of our professional network.
