San Diego, California, USA

Discount Registration: June 30, 2015

- Attend a short course planned for Sunday, August 16. Choose "Titanium and Titanium Alloys: Attributes, History, Metallurgy, Processing, and Case Studies," or "Practical Implementation of Microstructure Databases." Learn more about each course on the Ti-2015 website.

CDSM 2015

August 17–20, 2015
Institute of Metal Research, Chinese Academy of Sciences
Shenyang, China

- Conference chairs are Dianzhong Li (Institute of Metal Research, Chinese Academy of Sciences, China) and Zi-Kui Liu (The Pennsylvania State University, USA).
- Technical topics include: multi-scale modeling and simulations, interface computational simulations, high throughput computations, computational design, processing and manufacturing simulations, microstructural-level simulations, and big data.

October 4–8, 2015
Greater Columbus Convention Center
Columbus, Ohio, USA

- Registration opens soon with money-saving discounted rates for members, nonmembers, and students.
- Technical topics planned for MS&T15 include: Additive Manufacturing; Biomaterials; Electronic and Magnetic Materials; Energy; Fundamentals, Characterization, and Computational Modeling; Green Manufacturing Technology; Materials-Environment Interactions; Nanomaterials; and Processing and Manufacturing.
- Visit www.matscitech.org to learn how your company can sponsor or exhibit at MS&T15.

THE 1ST TMS SUMMIT ON INTEGRATED
MANUFACTURING &
MATERIALS INNOVATIONS

November 15–18, 2015
