

Erratum to: The Affordable Care Act and integrated behavioral health programs in community health centers to promote utilization of mental health services among Asian Americans

Susan Huang, MD, MS, Susana Fong, LCWS, Thomas Duong, Thu Quach, PhD, MPH

¹Asian Health Services, 818 Webster

Street, Oakland, CA 94607, USA

Correspondence to: T Quach
tquach@ahschc.org

Cite this as: TBM 2016;6:316
doi: 10.1007/s13142-016-0409-5

Erratum to: Behav Med Pract Policy Res 10.1007/s13142-016-0398-4

The publisher regrets that the following information was inadvertently omitted from the original publication.

Acknowledgments: Asian Health Services' integrated behavioral health program was funded by the Health Resources and Services Administration (H80CS0073) and the Alameda County Behavioral Health Care Services. We are grateful to the University of Washington AIMS Center for providing technical assistance and support during the development of our overall behavioral health program as well as the Alameda Behavioral

The online version of the original article can be found at <http://dx.doi.org/10.1007/s13142-016-0398-4>.

Health Care Services Consortium for providing support and guidance around program/. We would also like to thank Mr. Thanh Nguyen for his assistance with the background literature for this paper.

Conflict of interest: All authors (Susan Huang, Susana Fong, Thomas Duong, and Thu Quach) declare that they have no conflicts to report.

Compliance with ethical standards: This study did not involve human subjects