Dear researchers, colleagues, and readers, it is our great pleasure to present an autumn issue of Pharmacological Reports (5/2022). It includes a Special Section on "Energy metabolism in the physiology and pathology of the central nervous system". We would like to thank the guest editors, Katarzyna Głombik (Department of Experimental Neuroendocrinology, Maj Institute of Pharmacology PAS) and Katarzyna Kuter-Nowak (Department of Neuropsychopharmacology, Maj Institute of Pharmacology PAS) for their excellent work and great commitment to preparing the issue. We are also grateful to authors and reviewers for their contributions. The joint effort of all involved experts resulted in an interesting collection of 9 articles which bring new insights and develop knowledge in this research area.

The editorial team of Pharmacological Reports.
