“Radiological findings in an ancient Iranian salt mummy” published in Skeletal Radiology June 2015 Vol 44 Issue 6 p 811–821 included a significant amount of material that had previously been published in Metalla, the Journal of the German Mining Museum, Nr.21/2014, 103–112. We take duplicate publication very seriously. This duplication was brought to our attention by one of the authors and we are convinced that it was an honest error. Since Metalla is not widely indexed, and since there is no overlap of the readership, we have obtained agreement from the editor of Metalla to permit publication of this erratum rather than retracting the article.
