Clavicle pain

Jing Wu¹ · Harrison X. Bai² · Zishu Zhang¹

Published online: 3 February 2018
© ISS 2018

Question:

Title: Clavicle pain.

History: a 16 year old male with history of repeated trauma to left clavicle presented with intermittent and worsening left clavicular pain for several months (Figs. 1, 2, 3, 4, and 5).

Fig. 1 AP radiograph of the left clavicle at first visit

The diagnosis can be found at <https://doi.org/10.1007/s00256-018-2882-z>

✉ Zishu Zhang
zishuzhang@126.com

¹ Department of Radiology, The 2nd Xiangya Hospital of Central South University, 139 Renmin zhong Road, Changsha, Hunan 410011, China

² Department of Radiology, Hospital of the University of Pennsylvania, 3400 Spruce Street, Philadelphia, PA 19104, USA

Fig. 2 a. HE stain 100X. b HE stain 100X

Fig. 3 AP radiograph of the left clavicle 1 month after first visit

Fig. 4 AP radiograph of the left clavicle 7 months after first visit

Fig. 5 AP radiograph of the left clavicle 1 year after first visit