When the article

“Neurocardiogenic syncope in long-QT syndrome is not necessary benign” by Kanthers et al. (the online version can be found at <http://dx.doi.org/10.1007/s00392-006-0385-8>) had been published, some mistakes unfortunately did occur.

Reference 1 should read:

Dalla Pozza R, Kleinmann A, Bechtold S, Netz H (2005) Impedance cardiography and beat-to-beat blood pressure monitoring in diagnosis of syncope in long-QT syndrome. Z Kardiol 94(11):767–771 and the reply by Dr. Dalla Pozza was directed to the letter by Kanthers et al. and not by Toft et al. as we erroneously published.

The publisher apologies for any inconvenience caused by that mistake.
