Erratum: Duplicate Publication

An article entitled “Primary Cardiac Sarcoma — Two Case Reports” was published in the March 2000 issue of the Japanese Circulation Journal (Jpn Circ J 2000;64: 222–4), having been submitted on August 25, 1999, and accepted on November 25, 1999. While the review was in progress, a remarkably similar version of the article entitled “Rapidly Growing Primary Cardiac Leiomyosarcoma: Report of a Case” was submitted to Surgery Today with no information from the authors about other publication of the material, and was published in our journal in September 2000 (Surg Today 2000;30:838–40). The Editorial Board of Surgery Today has decided that there is essentially no difference between the two articles and has therefore concluded that the latter article submitted to Surgery Today represents a duplicate publication.
