During finalization of the revised manuscript that included an improved radiocarbon modeling approach, an error occurred in a written form of the model description. Specifically, pool “3” was substituted for pool “4” in text describing the model structure and the error was then propagated through the data reported in Table 4, the conceptual diagram in Fig. 7, and accompanying results and discussion. The model parameterization and optimization was correct, but the reporting of the proportion of carbon transfer from pool 1 to pool 4 was erroneously described and interpreted as being from pool 1 to pool 3.
