Erratum to: Deconstructing Reparative Therapy: An Examination of the Processes Involved When Attempting to Change Sexual Orientation

Chuck Bright

Published online: 25 September 2012
© Springer Science+Business Media New York 2012

Erratum to: Clinical Social Work Journal 32(4):471–481 DOI 10.1007/s10615-004-0543-2

This article was published with 2 errors in 2004 under the editorship of Carolyn Saari.

Abstract: "... most professional regulating bodies have banned the use of reparative therapy ..." should read, "... most professional regulating bodies have recommended against the use of reparative therapy ..."

On page 472:

The following sentence: "At the same time, reparative therapy has been banned by the American Psychiatric Association, the American Psychological Association, the American Counseling Association, the American Academy of Pediatrics, the American Medical Association, and the National Association of Social Workers (Herek, 1999; Mills, 1999; NASW, 1992; Robinson, 2000)" should be amended to read as follows: "At the same time, the use of reparative therapy is not endorsed by the American Psychiatric Association, the American Psychological Association, the American Counseling Association, the American Academy of Pediatrics, the American Medical Association, and the National Association of Social Workers (Herek, 1999; Mills, 1999; NASW, 1992; Robinson, 2000)."

The online version of the original article can be found under doi:10.1007/s10615-004-0543-2.

C. Bright (✉)
Jane Addams College of Social Work, University of Illinois-
Chicago, 9 Thornwood Drive, Flossmoor, IL 60422, USA
e-mail: cmbal@msn.com