The authors would like to note an error in the appendix, as items 13–16 are worded incorrectly in this paper. We apologise sincerely, this was a mistake made when formatting changes occurred. The stem of the question from the previous item was carried forward and not changed in the current item. The correct version should be as follows:

13. How well can you get yourself to stop thinking, “I blame myself for this”?
14. How well can you get yourself to stop thinking, “I get picked on because I’m different”?
15. How well can you get yourself to stop thinking, “I get picked on because of the way I look”?
16. How well can you get yourself to stop thinking, “I get picked on because I’m not as good as them”?
