Dear Colleagues,

I will start this editorial differently. I want to thank two quiet members of JINT who work hard to coordinate issue publication, coordinate with the production department, and correspond with all authors about final touches in their papers. Their names are Joey Francis Magnata and Marie Veth Chua. We owe a lot to them, even though they work 'behind the scene'. I, personally, want to thank them for one more thing: they 'put up' with me and my crazy requests at 3AM, 4AM, etc., Mountain Time. I realize they are in a different time-zone and their work day has already started, but I...wonder what they think of me! In any case, THANK YOU!

This November issue also has more papers – it is this time of the year as previously mentioned. So, enjoy it, but do not forget to submit a paper, too.
