During the long publishing history of the Journal of Oceanography, the Oceanographic Society of Japan had charged authors for publication several times. Since 2011, when the journal moved to publish with Springer, the publication fee was waived. However, for several reasons, we have decided to charge this fee again starting from August 1st, 2014. The following rule applies to all articles submitted after August 1st, and the authors will be invoiced after the manuscript has been accepted.

If the first author is a member of the Oceanographic Society of Japan when submitting the manuscript: 20,000 JPY.

If the first author is NOT a member of the Oceanographic Society of Japan when submitting the manuscript: 50,000 JPY.

We ask for your kind understanding with regard to this decision.
