The original version of the online published review paper contained errors in the Introduction section of the paper and in Table 2.

While describing the socioeconomic status of Southeast Asian Americans, it was stated that “indeed, two-thirds of Southeast Asian Americans live below the poverty line [5].” The incorrect reference was given for this statement. The correct reference is listed below:

Kagawa-Singer M, Wong L, Shostak S, Walsh CR, Lew R. Breast and cervical cancer screening practices for low-income Asian American women in ethnic-specific clinics. California Journal of Health Promotion. 2005; 3(3):180–192.

Corrected portions of Table 2 are given below:
