Erratum to: J Primary Prevent (2009) 30:513–530 DOI 10.1007/s10935-009-0189-5

The published version of the original article reports findings from a cluster randomized trial. There were errors in the stated individual-level sample sizes and rates reported in the Participant Characteristics paragraph. The correct information is as follows: A total of 10,849 (90 % of those eligible at the time) completed pretest surveys in the fall of their 6th grade year. A total of 11,008 (87 % of those eligible) completed the spring of 7th grade assessment, 10,927 (86 % of those eligible) completed the spring of 8th grade assessment, and 10,785 (86 % of those eligible) completed the spring of 9th grade assessment. Among those pre-tested, 8,868 (82 %) remained in their project school and completed the spring of 7th grade assessment, 8,366 (77 %) completed the spring of 8th grade assessment, and 7,787 (72 %) completed the spring of 9th grade assessment. The errors concern the sample description only; analyses and results are correct as originally reported.
