In the article “Psychosocial Determinants of Mistimed and Unwanted Pregnancy: The Hamamatsu Birth Cohort (HBC) Study” by S. Takahashi et al., the Method section contained an error in the text. In the first paragraph, under the subheading of Measurement, the fourth and fifth sentences should read as follows: “Among those who answered negatively to this question, a second question was posed—namely, was the pregnancy wanted or not? If no, the parturients were categorized into the UWP group.”
