Note from the editor Lasswell prize announcement for volume 41 (2008)

Toddi A. Steelman

© Springer Science+Business Media, LLC. 2009

The Harold D. Lasswell Prize is awarded to the best article in each volume of Policy Sciences, as determined by a vote of the journal's international editorial board. A monetary award is provided by the journal's publisher, Springer, to the awardee. The winner for the 2008 prize is David G. Ockwell for "'Opening up' policy to reflexive appraisal: A role for Q Methodology? A case study of fire management in Cape York, Australia", which appeared in 41(4): 263–292.

T. A. Steelman (✉)

Environmental and Natural Resource Policy, Department of Forestry and Environmental Resources, North Carolina State University, Box 8008, Raleigh, NC 27695-8008, USA

e-mail: toddi_steelman@ncsu.edu

URL: <http://www.springer.com/social+sciences/political+science/journal/11077>