ERRATUM

Performance of Integrated FDG-PET/CT for Differentiating Benign and Malignant Lung Lesions - Results from a Large Prospective Clinical Trial

Sandra Pauls,¹ Andreas K. Buck,² Gisela Halter,³ Felix M. Mottaghy,² Rainer Muche,⁴ Christina Bluemel,² Susanne Gerstner,⁴ Stefan Krüger,⁵ Gerhard Glatting,² Ludger Sunder-Plassmann,³ Peter Möller,⁶ Hans-Jürgen Brambs,¹ Sven N. Reske²

¹Department of Diagnostic and Interventional Radiology, University of Ulm, Robert-Koch-Str. 8, 89081 Ulm, Germany

²Department of Nuclear Medicine, University of Ulm, Robert-Koch-Str. 8, 89081 Ulm, Germany

³Department of Thoracic Surgery, University of Ulm, Steinhövelstr. 9, 89075 Ulm, Germany

⁴Institute of Biometrics, University of Ulm, Schwabstr. 13, 89075 Ulm, Germany

⁵Department of Internal Medicine II, University of Ulm, Robert-Koch-Str. 8, 89081 Ulm, Germany

⁶Department of Pathology, University of Ulm, Robert-Koch-Strasse 8, 89081 Ulm, Germany

In the article “Performance of Integrated FDG-PET/CT for Differentiating Benign and Malignant Lung Lesions -Results from a Large Prospective Clinical Trial” [10.1007/s11307-007-0129-9], the affiliation for Hans-Jürgen Brambs was incorrect. The affiliations as displayed above are now correct.

Springer regrets the error.