There were two inaccuracies in this article as originally published, both of which have now been corrected in the article:

In Table 4 in the paper, the columns are not properly labeled which is misrepresenting the data. From left to right, the tables are: Complete Relapse, Chronic Relapse with Periods of Abstinence, 1–3 Slips but otherwise Abstinent, Complete Abstinence.

There was an issue with the percentages in the section titled Descriptive Statistics, second paragraph. While the n sizes are the same, the percentages were not representing that data correctly.
