AUTHOR CORRECTION

Author Correction: Digital Citizenship: you Can't Go Home Again

Randy Hollandsworth¹ • Judy Donovan² • Mary Welch³

Published online: 9 October 2017
© Association for Educational Communications & Technology 2017

Author Correction: TechTrends (2017)

<https://doi.org/10.1007/s11528-017-0190-4>

The original version of this article unfortunately contained a mistake. Figure 3 on the published version of the article was wrong. The correct Fig. 3 is now presented below.

The online version of the original article can be found at <https://doi.org/10.1007/s11528-017-0190-4>

✉ Randy Hollandsworth
rhollandsworth@piedmont.edu

Judy Donovan
judy.donovan@ashford.edu

Mary Welch
mwelch@piedmont.edu

¹ Piedmont College, 1021 Central Avenue-Lane Hall,
Demorest, GA 30353, USA

² Ashford University, 8620 Spectrum Center Blvd.,
San Diego, CA 48060, USA

³ Piedmont College, 1021 Central Avenue, Demorest,
GA 30535, USA

Fig. 3 Proposed grade when digital citizenship should first be taught in school (Hollandsworth et al. 2011)