The original version of this article unfortunately contained six mistakes.

In Abstract section on page 137:

1. Results showed that AMF colonization was significantly higher than dark septate endophyte colonization ($p>0.05$).

The correct writing should be:

Results showed that AMF colonization was significantly higher than dark septate endophyte colonization ($p<0.05$).

2. Spore density varied significantly in all the sites ($p>0.05$).

The correct writing should be:

Spore density varied significantly in all the sites ($p<0.05$).

In “Mycorrhizal colonization” subtitle of Results section on page 139:

3. However, AMF colonization was significantly higher ($p>0.05$) than DSE (Fig. 3).

The correct writing should be:

However, AMF colonization was significantly higher ($p<0.05$) than DSE (Fig. 3).

4. Spore density differed statistically in all the sites ($p>0.05$).

The correct writing should be:

Spore density differed statistically in all the sites ($p<0.05$).

5. No significant correlation was found between mycorrhizal colonization, soil properties, CBH and H ($p>0.05$).

The correct writing should be:

No significant correlation was found between mycorrhizal colonization, soil properties, CBH and H ($p<0.05$).

6. Tukey test showing different alphabetical letters varies significantly ($p>0.05$).

The correct writing should be:

Tukey test showing different alphabetical letters varies significantly ($p<0.05$).
