The Editors of the Korean Journal of Chemical Engineering have retracted this paper on request of the senior named author, Professor Jong Moon Park. The paper was written and submitted to KJCE by the corresponding author, Tsolmonbaatar Batbileg, former student of Prof Park, without the knowledge or permission of Prof Park. The second named author, Dr Xu Xu, was also unaware of the writing or submission of the manuscript.

The paper contained fabricated data and a substantial amount of material plagiarised from the following published articles:

Production of biodiesel from carbon sources of macroalgae, Laminaria japonica

Bioresource Technology 169 (2014) 455-461

Xu Xu, Ji Young Kim, Yu Ri Oh, Jong Moon Park

Bioconversion of volatile fatty acids from macroalgae fermentation into microbial lipids by oleaginous yeast

Chemical Engineering Journal 264 (2015) 735-743

Xu Xu, Ji Young Kim, Hyun Uk Cho, Hye Rim Park and Jong Moon Park

Professor Park apologizes to the readers of KJCE for the unethical actions of Mr Batbileg.

The online version of this article contains the full text of the retracted article as electronic supplementary material.

[†]Correspondence should be addressed to professor Jong Moon Park.
