ERRATUM

Erratum to: HIV Prevention Among Transgender Populations: Knowledge Gaps and Evidence for Action

Tonia Poteat¹ • Mannat Malik¹ • Ayden Scheim² • Ayana Elliott³

Published online: 13 September 2017
© Springer Science+Business Media, LLC 2017

Erratum to: Curr HIV/AIDS Rep (2017) 14:141–152

<https://doi.org/10.1007/s11904-017-0360-1>

The original version of this article unfortunately contained an error in the last sentence of “Biomedical Interventions” section. The change is highlighted in bold below:

None of the transgender women who had blood levels of TDF consistent with taking at least four pills a week seroconverted; and none of the transgender women who seroconverted had detectable levels of TDF in their blood.

The online version of the original article can be found at <https://doi.org/10.1007/s11904-017-0360-1>

✉ Tonia Poteat
tpoteat@jhu.edu

Mannat Malik
mmalik7@jhu.edu

Ayden Scheim
ascheim@uwo.ca

Ayana Elliott
aelliott@coh.org

¹ Department of Epidemiology, Johns Hopkins Bloomberg School of Public Health, 615 N. Wolfe Street, E7138, Baltimore, MD 21205, USA

² Department of Epidemiology and Biostatistics, Schulich School of Medicine and Dentistry, The University of Western Ontario, K201 Kresge Building, London, ON N6B 3J6, Canada

³ Director of Clinical Operations, City of Hope South Pasadena, 209 Fair Oaks Avenue, South Pasadena, CA 91030, USA