Last year we discovered that our published studies of kidney allograft tolerance included some animals that had not undergone bilateral nephrectomies. Because our review paper, Hutchings A, Hubbard WJ, Thomas FT, Thomas JM, “STEALTH in transplantation tolerance,” Immunologic Research 26:143–152, 2002 (DOI 10.1385/IR:26:1-3:143), contains so much graft survival information on kidney transplant recipients that were later proven to have retained an intrinsic kidney, we request that this paper be retracted.
