LETTER TO THE EDITOR

To the Editor:

The ICANL welcomes feedback related to the standard setting and administration of the accreditation program. As a founding sponsoring organization, ASNC has provided tremendous support and input since the ICANL's inception in 1997 and those efforts are greatly appreciated. The ICANL process is a fluid one, providing opportunities for continuous changes that are in the interest of participating laboratories and that ultimately ensure the utmost quality in nuclear medicine. We look forward to the recommendations of the task force and working together to further enhance the accreditation process.
