It is with great pleasure that we announce the launch of a new journal, to be called the European Journal of Mathematics, that will publish its first issue in March 2015. The Board of the Journal includes many distinguished mathematicians. It consists of Advisory and Editorial Boards (together about 70 editors) which work in close cooperation. The Editorial Board consists of experts who densely cover many areas of Mathematics what allows to provide with professional and timely refereeing process of articles. The current Editor-in-Chief is Fedor Bogomolov and Managing Editor is Tatiana Sworowska.

The Journal will publish high quality research and review papers in several areas of Mathematics each of which will be run by a group of experts in the area from the Editorial Board. EJM is an electronic journal and will appear in quarterly mode. However, some paper versions will be distributed in major research centers in Mathematics. We invite authors from all over the world to contribute high quality papers in Mathematics to EJM and expect rigorous but timely refereeing process by unbiased experts in the field.
