S.S. Mohamed, M.E. Atkinson: The Ontogeny of Substance P – Containing Nerve Fibres in the Developing Mouse Dentition. Anat Embryol (1982) 164:153–159

On p. 158 the last line in the Discussion was omitted. The last sentence should read:

Because the nerves reach their target tooth at different times, isolation of factors by comparison of events from tooth to tooth would be somewhat easier than in other sensory areas where events are temporally uniform.
