

EDITORIAL ANNOUNCEMENT

From the beginning of August, 1982 Linguistics and Philosophy will be in the process of undergoing an editorial change occasioned by Robert Wall's resignation as co-managing editor. From the beginning of Volume 6, No. 1 the co-managing editors will be:

Robin Cooper,
Dept. of Linguistics, University of Wisconsin, Madison,
WI 53706, U.S.A.

Richard E. Grandy,
Dept. of Philosophy, Rice University, Houston, TX 77005,
U.S.A.

There will also be the following associate editors:

Jon Barwise (semantics, logic),
Dept. of Mathematics, University of Wisconsin, Madison,
WI 53706, U.S.A.

Lauri Karttunen (computational linguistics),
Dept. of Linguistics, University of Texas, Austin, TX 78712,
U.S.A.

Ewan Klein (European editor),
School of English Language and Literature, The University,
Newcastle-upon-Tyne, England, NE1 7RU

William A. Ladusaw (semantics),
Dept. of Linguistics, The University of Iowa, Iowa City,
IA 52242, U.S.A.

Scott Soames (pragmatics),
Dept. of Philosophy, 1879 Hall, Princeton University,
Princeton, NJ 08544, U.S.A.

Thomas Wasow (formal grammar theory),
Dept. of Linguistics, Stanford University, Stanford, CA 94305,
U.S.A.

Authors should now submit papers to any of the new managing editors or associate editors and are urged to submit papers to an associate editor where appropriate as this will considerably reduce the time needed for processing.