Hum. Genet. 37, 149—153 (1977)

Since the galley proof of this paper was returned to the Editor, it was brought to our attention by Dr. Centerwall that a case of partial trisomy 9 with a karyotypic description of 47,XY,+del(9q22) had presented with scrotalized penis with hypospadias, calcaneal valgus feet requiring casting, and congenitally dislocated hips. National Foundation, Birth Defects, Orig. Art. Ser., XIII, 3D, July 1977.
