

OBITUARY

A. P. SEMOCHKIN

Alexandr Pakhomovich Semochkin - one of the establishers of the Lobnya Industrial Technical School of the Ministry of the Building Materials Industry of the USSR - died after a serious illness.

For more than 40 years Alexandr Pakhomovich worked at this Technical School, first as a teacher, and later as an associate director. With his help over ten thousand specialists were trained for native ceramic industry, many of whom are still in charge of plants and factories.

Experienced pedagogue, specialist in the field of building materials technology and man of tact, Alexandr Pakhomovich won the great love and respect of his students and co-workers.

A. P. Semochkin devoted all his life to the training of specialists in the building materials industry. For many years he edited textbooks for technical schools.

The bright memor. of Alexandr Pakhomovich Semochkin - wonderful man, and veteran of war and labor - will remain forever in our hearts.

Teaching staff of the Lobnesk VZITSM USSR; workers of the "Stroikeramika" Industrial Organization;
and former engineering school students.