

NOTES AND COMMENTS

A TRANSLATION

The Synthese Library has published Problems of the Logic of Scientific Knowledge (Reidel, Dordrecht, 1970, 429 pp.), a translation of Problemy logiki naučnogo poznanija (Nauka, Moscow, 1964), edited by P. V. Tavanec. The volume contains articles by P. V. Tavanec and V. S. Švyrev; V. A. Smirnov; V. S. Švyrev; A. A. Zinov'ev; V. N. Sadovskij; G. I. Ruzavin; A. I. Uemov; D. P. Gorskij; A. L. Subbotin; and A. N. Rakitov.

T.J.B.

NEW BOOKS

Several regular contributors to Studies in Soviet Thought have recently published books. George L. Kline of Bryn Mawr is the author of Religious and Anti-Religious Thought in Russia (Weil Institute Lectures. The University of Chicago Press, 1968, 179 pp.), which contains an interesting chapter on 'Religion and Anti-Religion in the Soviet Union'. Helmut Dahm's latest contribution to the study of contemporary Soviet philosophy is Meuterei auf den Knien. Die Krise des marxistischen Welt- und Menschenbildes (Walter-Verlag, Olten und Freiburg im Breisgau, 1969, 208 pp.). In the series 'Berichte des Osteuropa-Instituts an der Freien Universität Berlin. Reihe Philosophie und Soziologie, herausgegeben von Professor Dr. Hans-Joachim Lieber', Dr. Helmut Fleischer has published Wertphilosophie in der Sowjetunion (Berlin, 1969, 512 pp.).

T.J.B.