In Volume 7, Number 1 of the Journal of Medical Humanities and Bioethics the bottom of page 39, Dr. M.E. Winston's article "Abortion and Parental Responsibility" should read as follows:

The Consent Model: An individual x has a parental responsibility towards another individual y only if x consents to accept such a responsibility towards y.

The Causal Responsibility Model: If x is through his or her own free action directly and foreseeably causally responsible for the creation of a human offspring y, then x has a parental responsibility towards y.

Human Sciences Press apologizes for the oversight.
