ERRATA

The Journal of Primary Prevention would like to acknowledge and rectify errors which appeared in Volume 3, Number 4, in Martin Bloom's article, Prevention/Promotion With Minorities:

1. On page 226, the paragraph beginning, "A third assumption . . .," the correct spelling of the word in the second line is "reservoir."

2. On page 227, the first whole paragraph beginning "Furthermore . . .," there is a word missing in the first sentence. This line should read: "Furthermore, we can assume that there will not only be fewer federal dollars. . . ."

3. In that same sentence a word is misspelled. It should read: "competition" not "completion."

4. In the second whole paragraph on page 227, fifth line down, the word "more" should be "move."
