Announcements Service

This service is available to persons or organisations wishing to announce international or European scientific meetings in the fields of clinical microbiology or infectious diseases. The service is provided free of charge. Information in the announcements is limited to the dates, meeting name, location and source of further information with telefacsimile number. The text of the announcement should be set out with double-line spacing ready for print as shown in the examples above and forwarded by telefacsimile or mail to the following address: European Journal of Clinical Microbiology & Infectious Diseases, Trogerstr. 32, 81675 Munich, Germany, Fax 49 89/470 22 40. Owing to the general volume of work, the journal is not able to acknowledge receipt or provide proofs of announcements.
