

National Conference on Management Science and Practice
March 31, 2006 – April 1, 2006

Organized by

Production & Quantitative Methods Area,
Indian Institute of Management
Ahmedabad

In collaboration with ORSI - Ahmedabad Chapter

The purpose of this Conference is to provide an opportunity for scholars working in the broad area of applied management science to present and share their work. It is hoped such Conferences would promote interaction among industry and academia. Often, such interactions lead to new and challenging research areas.

There is no registration fee to attend this conference. However all participants are expected to register to facilitate planning. The registered participants would have access to the conference proceedings and publication, lunches and dinner. Dormitory accommodation is reserved for registered participants on IIMA campus on a first cum first serve basis.

Contributed papers are invited for this Conference in the broad area of management science with a clear focus on application. Ideally, the presentation should focus on an important practical problem or discuss a methodology which has relevant and meaningful application in real life. We seek contributions from the industry emphasizing an application with appropriate academic rigor.

To participate in this Conference, please send an email (nravi@iimahd.ernet.in) with name, designation and affiliation and the desire for accommodation on IIMA campus.
