In consultation with the publisher, the editors-in-chief have appointed new members to the Editorial Board aiming to resurrect an active support in the manuscript selection and journal development process. We have invited senior colleagues who have wide recognition in their respective areas of expertise. In addition, our selection aimed at representing a good diversity of disciplines, gender, experience and European countries to reflect the current publishing status of our journal. We are pleased to announce the newly nominated members, to whom we are grateful that they have accepted the invitation.
