The published article has a typographic error on the label of the equation that appears in Fig. 4a, where it appears as $Y_{DW} = -0.0023 IR^2 + 5.5499 IR + 454.92$ when the corrected equation is $Y_{DW} = -0.0023 IR^2 + 4.5499 IR + 454.92$.

This is a typing error generated in the transcription of the equation during the graphic work and in no way alters the results presented in the graphs. The published paper has been carefully checked, and we have verified that the equation drawn in the published Fig. 4a was made with the correct equation, as is the case with the derivate of the equation that appears published in Fig. 5 [$IWMP = (-0.0046 IR + 4.5499)/10$].
