Correction to: The Mathematical Intelligencer

<https://doi.org/10.1007/s00283-021-10073-x>

In the original article there was a typographical error in the sentence “A stronger version says that it is sufficient that the numbers {1, 2, 3, 5, 6, 7, 10, 14, 15} be represented, and for each of these nine numbers there is an explicit quadratic form that takes all positive integers as values except that one number.” The number 3 above was printed incorrectly as 4. The original article has been revised and it is now correct.
