

Unjoined primary and secondary neural tubes: junctional neural tube defect, a new form of spinal dysraphism caused by disturbance of junctional neurulation

© Springer-Verlag GmbH Germany 2017

Sebastian Eibach

This multiauthored paper has been assigned the 2017 Raimondi Award. The co-authors have indicated Dr. Eibach as the author entitled to the award for his particular contribution to the study. The Raimondi Award was established by the International Society for Pediatric Neurosurgery to honour Prof. Anthony J Raimodi and his lifelong interest in promoting pediatric neurosurgery and the young neurosurgeon's education.