This article has been withdrawn. We have received the following communication from the author:

“It has been brought to our attention that in our invited review entitled “Neuronal pathology in Parkinson’s disease” published in Cell and Tissue Research in October 2004, some passages show overlap or similarities in content to the review published by Dauer and Przedborski in Neuron, September 2003, without citation. We apologize to Drs. Dauer and Przedborski and the readership for this oversight and withdraw our manuscript.”
