Unfortunately, the article has been published with some errors in the reference citation.

The corrections are as follows:

In Page 13,077, under the heading Related works, in the seventh paragraph, the first line should read as, “Alworafi [33] considered the load on resources and proposed a Hybrid-SJF-LJF (HSLJF) algorithm, which synthesizes the Shortest Job First (SJF) and Longest Job First (LJF) algorithms”.

In Page 13,078 – In the first paragraph, the last line should read as “Simulation results showed a good improvement in makespan, execution time, and so on [38]”.
