Originally, in the "Results" section of the Abstract, the sentence "ICU-admitted patients made more errors ($p=.021$) on the MMSE than those not admitted when partialling out risk factors and age—the latter negatively influencing performances." contains a misprint. It has been changed to "ICU-admitted patients made less errors ($p=.021$) on the MMSE than those not admitted when partialling out risk factors and age—the latter negatively influencing performances."

The original article has been corrected.
