In this article the delta symbol in the legend for Fig. 2 was inadvertently missed.

It should have appeared as shown below.

Panel a shows the belief index created from Twitter (left hand side) and the government bond spreads of Spain and Italy in basis point relative to Germany (right hand side). Panel b shows ΔBelief_t , the daily change in our belief index. The left axis in both panels denotes the number of tweets.

The original article has been corrected.
