Erratum to: Arch Sex Behav DOI 10.1007/s10508-016-0783-6

In the first paragraph of “Results” section of this article, under the subheading “Participant Characteristics,” the PDF version of the article as originally published incorrectly reported an item of data that was correct in the HTML version of the article:

The sentence that begins in the 12th line of that paragraph (in the PDF version) with the words “Most participants were living with their romantic partner (56.74 %;  $n = 44$ )” should have read (as it does now) “Most participants were living with their romantic partner (56.74 %;  $n = 244$ ).”
