The original version of this article unfortunately contained mistakes.

The authors requested to add the following corrections:

1. In the sentence ‘The following litigation considers the impact of the place on protests.’, the phrase ‘place on protests’ should have read ‘place of protests’.
2. In the sentence beginning ‘As scholars have shown, police develop ...’, the text ‘police develop’ should have read ‘liability risks increase when police develop’.
3. The sentence ‘Trainings on these topics should be more heavily integrated into police training.’ should have read ‘Training on these topics should be more heavily integrated into routine police training.’.
4. In the sentence beginning ‘Ironically, the indiscriminate use ...’, the reference citation ‘Maguire, 2018, p. 104’ should have read ‘Maguire, 2015, p. 104’.
5. Reference ‘Ferguson, D., & April (2023). 3, Masters ’23: 20 years after protests, women still look ahead. Associated Press [AP]. <https://apnews.com/article/masters-martha-burk-women-golf-suzy-whaley-46d>.’ was incorrect and should have been ‘Ferguson, D. (2023, April 3). Masters ’23: 20 years after protests, women still look ahead. Associated Press [AP]. <https://apnews.com/article/masters-martha-burk-women-golf-suzy-whaley-46d>’.
